Background Information:

History:

The Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway published a monthly magazine for employees from 1948 through the 1980s called the J-Milepost. The publication, run by editors R.J. Schiek and R.J. Benson, included company updates, employee promotions, features on different employees or departments of the company, employee parties, retirements, and other general updates for employees of the EJ&E. The publication is described in the April, 1957 edition as:

- “1. To show every employee that he is an important part of the railway – to report interesting activities of as many J-people in as many departments as possible.
2. To promote safety on the railway and in the home.
3. To present interesting news of the ‘J’ and the railway industry in general.”

Scope and Content Arrangement:

The EJ&E J-Milepost Photograph collection contains photographs taken for the company’s monthly publication, the J-Milepost. Also included are a few retirement programs, employee histories, and other manuscripts relating to the history of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway (EJ&E). The materials included in the EJ&E J-Milepost Photograph collection have been kept in their original order. The materials were donated to the museum in 5x7 manilla envelopes, each labeled with the date, photographer, content of the photographs inside the envelope, and employee position. Majority of the envelopes were in poor condition and have been removed from the collection. The information on the front of each envelope has been transcribed to the current folder housing the photographs.

The collection also contains a series of aerial photographs of the EJ&E rail line taken between 1946 and 1975 by helicopter. The contents of these envelopes have been kept together and transferred to folders. The collection has been arranged into two series by the content of the photographs. Series 1: Employee Photographs is arranged alphabetically by last name of the employee, and Series 2: Aerial Photographs is arranged chronologically.

Series 1: Employee Photographs, 1949-1976

Series 2: Aerial Photographs, 1946-1975

Scope: This series contains photographs taken of EJ&E employees for use in the J-Milepost publication. The photographs were organized by employee and arrived in manilla envelopes labeled with the employees' position, retirement date, other important milestones in their career, the dates of the photographs and which J-Milepost photographer took the photograph. Majority of the envelopes were in poor condition and have been removed from the collection. The information on the front of each envelope has been transcribed to the current folder housing the photographs. The photographs have been kept in the same order as when they were received, and all negatives and documents have been separated from the photographs for preservation purposes. In a few cases documents were also included in the envelopes including retirement programs, handwritten employee histories, and other items. These materials can also be found in this series accompanying the employees' photographs. The folders have been arranged alphabetically by the employee's last name.
